COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is located at the intersection of hermeneutics and homiletics. What is the Word? What is the relationship between the Bible and the Word? What is the relationship between text and context? What is preaching? What, if anything, is the difference between a speech and a sermon? What is the goal of preaching? What must be at play in the preparation and presentation of the sermon? Questions such as these will be explored in this course with the aim of equipping church leaders to “preach the Word” dynamically and effectively.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- To articulate a theology of preaching—that is, to gain an understanding of the bible itself, principles of interpretation (hermeneutics), and effective delivery (homiletics).
- To develop skills in negotiating the ancient texts of scripture with the current context.
- To understand the role of preaching in the overall ministry of the church in the world.
- To know how to design and deliver a sermon.

Guidelines for each assignment:

Book Review: A 2-3 pp., double-spaced review of Scott McKnight's Blue Parakeet is due on the first day of class, Monday, June 3rd. A book review is a way to reflect upon a reading that accomplishes the following:

- a summary of the book (no more than a third of the paper)
- strengths and weaknesses (if any) of it, and
- whether you recommend it or not to other potential readers.

Class participation: Your participation is integral to the success of this class—hence, why it is part of your grade. Most sessions will begin with discussion surrounding the readings. So be prepared to contribute, ask questions, give input, argue!

Sermon Series Outline: A sermon series outline, which reflects both a clear goal and a coherent flow is due on the last day of class, Monday, June 10th. It can be a topical sermon series that covers a number of passages or a series based on a book of the Bible. You are expected to present this outline to the class and received feedback.

Sermon Outline: The outline of a sermon, as part of your series, is due on the last day of class, Friday, June 7th. You are expected to present this outline to the class and receive feedback.

Reading Log: A Reading Log of all required readings will be due on Friday, July 19th. The Reading Log form can be found on p. 6 of syllabus.

Video Sermon: A video of you delivering a sermon is due on Monday, July 29th. This sermon should be one that is included in the series you constructed in class. It could be a real one in case you are preaching in church before July 31st, or you can self-produce the video from home. Please shoot for 25 minutes max for the sermon.

At the completion of this course, you will receive a letter grade reflecting your performance in this course. Letter grades (from A – F) will be awarded according to the existing policies of North Park Theological Seminary. The final course grade will be computed according to the total number of points earned for all assignments as shown below (cf. catalog):

INCOMPLETE GRADES

If, due to extenuating circumstances (specifically, pregnancy, illness, personal and family issues, military assignment, etc.), a student anticipates they will be unable to complete course work within the allotted time, that student may request a grade of incomplete from the course instructor before the last week of class clearly stating the reason(s) for this request.

Overscheduling and/or lack of self-discipline are not considered extenuating circumstances. If the request is timely and meets the criteria, student and instructor will submit the incomplete grade form and the grade for that class will be listed as "I" until the last day of the following semester. If coursework is not submitted by the last day of the following semester the listing of "I" will automatically be changed to "F." For the full policy, see page 15 of the Seminary Academic Catalog.
