Assessments

All assessments should be posted in the appropriate Canvas forums as a Word Documents (no PDF's will be accepted). Please do not send papers either by mail or e-mail directly to course instructors.

1. Learning Materials Record. (10% of course grade). Reading assigned texts and articles and viewing online materials are important for understanding the concepts of this course. Students will complete and post this record in Canvas at the end of the course. This record indicates that reading and viewing of learning materials was completed on time, late, or not at all. Due date for this record is listed in the course schedule below.
2. Online Reflections and Responses. (5% of course grade for each of 4 = 20% Total). Each module will have learning materials participants are asked to read, view, and reflect upon. Incorporate your reactions to these materials in each module.
Online Reflections. From the learning materials in each module post a 500-750 word response. Follow suggestions given in each module in Canvas. Responses can amplify important themes, critically engage ideas, or advance the ideas in the reading. All should demonstrate that you have done the reading and can apply learning to your ministry on an individual and communal level. Sections from these responses that you post may be incorporated into your final paper. Deadlines for posting reflections are listed below.
Online Responses: Write a 200-250 word response offering feedback to at least two other course participants' posts each week. Good responses are demonstrated by understanding of another's view, offering candid and caring feedback, advancing ideas of peers and readings, reflecting on how content affects students in the classroom differently, and demonstration of empathy with a variety of perspectives. Response postings are due by midnight central time the Tuesday following the initial post. Due dates for online reflections and responses are listed in the course schedule below.

3. Live session attendance and presentations. (10% of course grade for each of 4). Each course session will have an assignment for presentation and an opportunity for interaction. Instructions for each week's presentation are posted in Canvas. Parts of your written responses can be incorporated into your final paper. Participation in class discussions will be part of your course grade.
4. Quiz. (10% of course grade). You will be given an information assessment quiz at the beginning of the course. The first time you take this quiz it will not count towards the course grade. At the end of the semester you will be asked to take the same quiz again to assess how much progress has been made and this one will be graded.
5. Final Paper. (20% Course Grade). This assignment is geared towards those in ministry in ECC churches. If you serve elsewhere adapt this assignment to your particular ministry context as much as possible. Be sure to include all components listed below. Your paper should divide into three main sections:
 1. What are ECC Priorities? In 1000-1500 words explain the ECC structure and purpose in a way that someone new to the ECC could grasp them. This should include the following: 1) A brief description of the five missional priorities with biblical explanations as to why they are important both locally and denominationally, 2) Explain how the five missional priorities are administered in the three organizational divisions of the ECC, 3) An analysis of how your local church is or is not presently involved in these five priority areas and 4) Your thoughts and suggestions for possible improvement in involvement with these areas of mission priority at the local, conference, and denominational levels.
 2. What is Polity? In 1000-1500 words explain polity in a way that someone new to your ministry could understand it. This should include the following: 1) A summary of how ECC congregational polity works at the denominational, conference, and local levels, 2) Name your ECC superintendent and describe her or his role within your conference. Share how your church connects with your conference, 3) Describe the organizational polity model your church has chosen based on your current governing document(s). This means you will need to find your ministry's current organizing document and include it as one of the ten sources you refer to for this paper, 4) Analyze strengths and challenges of your church's current governing polity model.
 3. Who Are We? In 1000-1500 words describe the Mosaic Movement of the ECC to those unfamiliar with it. This should include the following: 1) A brief explanation of the 6-Fold test with one example of each, 2) A cultural exegesis of your church's context listing missional challenges and opportunities in implementing the 6-Fold test. For your exegesis you may select categories from Paul's article and/or from Chapter 6 of the Okesson book. Two helpful links for finding demographic information in the U.S. are www.city-data.com (free) and www.missioninsite.com (not free). For Canadians this is a useful free site: <https://www.environicsanalytics.com/en-ca/PRIZM5>, 3) An honest evaluation of your church's involvement in each of the six areas of the 6-Fold test with suggestions for improvement. 4) Discuss the role of women in your church's ministry.

Scriptural and theological support for your statements must be included throughout. After reflecting on this project and this course share what has been most impactful for you. How has this learning or understanding impacted your discernment about making the ECC your denominational home? Integrate at least ten sources of course materials, discussion, and other books or online resources into your paper and list them as footnotes or endnotes. Your paper should total between 3,000 and 4500 words. Use 12-point font, double-spaced and post online as a Word document. Due date listed below.

Additional Notes

Academic Accommodation: NPTS provides services for students with documented disabilities to ensure equal access to programs, services, facilities, and activities. Students with a disability who believe that they may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to contact Seminary Academic Services as soon as possible. If desired or necessary, discussion pertaining to documentation and accommodation can take place at another suitable location or by telephone. Further information about the American Disabilities Act Services is found at <https://www.northpark.edu/campus-life-and-services/student-success-and-wellness/disability-resources/>.

Academic Honesty: In keeping with our Christian heritage and commitment, North Park University is committed to the highest possible ethical and moral standards. Just as we will constantly strive to live up to these high standards, we expect our students to do the same. To that end, cheating of any sort will not be tolerated. Students who are discovered cheating are subject to discipline up to and including failure of a course and expulsion. Our definition of cheating includes but is not limited to:

- Plagiarism - the use of another's work as one's own without giving credit to the individual. This includes using materials from the internet.
- Copying another's answers on an examination.
- Deliberately allowing another to copy one's answers or work.
- Signing an attendance roster for another who is not present.
- Use of ChatGPT or other AI composition software to impersonate individual assignments.

For a fuller discussion of academic dishonesty, see the Seminary Academic Catalog.

Canvas: For any questions or concerns about Canvas please open an online Helpdesk ticket.

Harassment Policy and Title IX: Students who believe they have been harassed, discriminated against, or involved in sexual violence should contact the Dean of Students (773-244-6222) or Director of Human Resources (773-244-5601) for information about campus resources and support services, including confidential counseling services. As members of the North Park faculty, we are concerned about the well-being and development of our students and are available to discuss any concerns. Faculty are legally obligated to share information with the University's Title IX coordinator in certain situations to help ensure that the student's safety and welfare is being addressed, consistent with the requirements of the law. These disclosures include but are not limited to reports of sexual assault, relational/domestic violence, and stalking. Please refer to North Park's Safe Community site (<http://www.northpark.edu/Campus-Life-and-Services/Safe-Community>) for contact information and further details.

Inclusive Language: NPTS encourages all students to follow the Statement of Inclusive Language of the ECC which explains, "We are committed to being inclusive in language and imagery in an effort to eliminate prejudice, whether gender, racial, ethnic, national, religious, denominational, cultural, or physical. This way of proceeding in no manner seeks to deny personal identity; rather, it guards against any use of word or phrase that tends to exclude people." Consider how you can best incorporate inclusive language into all of your communication (written and oral) during the course particularly in your references to God and to humanity.

Incomplete Grades: If, due to extenuating circumstances (specifically, pregnancy, illness, personal and family issues, military assignment, etc.), a student anticipates they will be unable to complete course work within the allotted time, that student may request a grade of incomplete from the course instructor before the last week of class clearly stating the reason(s) for this request. Overscheduling and/or lack of self-discipline are not considered extenuating circumstances. If the request is timely and meets the criteria, student and instructor will submit the incomplete grade form and the grade for that class will be listed as "I" until the last day of the following semester. If coursework is not submitted by the last day of the following semester the listing of "I" will automatically be changed to "F." For the full policy, see the Seminary Academic Catalog.

Online/Zoom Etiquette: While online in class students are required to keep cameras on. This gives all in the class the ability to connect at least visually, if not in audibly. Please use the same etiquette you would use when in the classroom with other students. This means avoid traveling in your car, preparing a meal, dressing, showering, personal grooming, or engaging in other activities at the same time as when you are in the online classroom. We understand that cats, dogs, and young children like to be in on the activity and that is not a problem as long as they do not distract from your ability to engage and learn. When not speaking, please mute microphones unless asked to do otherwise. When necessary, course participants may send chat messages to instructors during the class time. Online programs such as internet use, solitaire and other computer games, email, social media, and any other online connections not related to the course should not be open during class time.

Writing Format: Use the Turabian style for references in your writing. Refer to the Seminary Writing handbook for more information regarding formatting or writing style. It can be found at: <https://www.northpark.edu/seminary/academics/student-resources/>
